About this camp

This summer camp program will provide step-by-step instruction and access to different mediums: acrylic paint, watercolor, color pencils, oil pastels. This camp will nurture your child's creativity and help improve their fine motor skills. Painting and drawing is an excellent way to further support handwriting performance.

- Your child will be working on following visual sequences and manually replicating what they perceive, targeting visual perceptual and visual-motor integration skills.
- To manipulate these various art mediums and tools, your child will enhance their fine motor accuracy skills, increase fine motor stamina, and improve their force modulation (exert too much or too little pressure).
- In this camp, we encourage trying new things, self-expression, and self-compassion.
- This camp is perfect for kiddos that need a break from working on handwriting and/or just want to have some fun!

The program has been designed to support elementary and middle-school aged children with various fine-motor, visual-perceptual, force modulation, and visual-motor integration challenges (not to exceed groups of 6). Choose from one of the weeks below or sign up for all.
